Tapping Educational Brakes:

Taking Intentional Pauses in Our Transformational Journeys in the Creation of Change

Spring 2023

The world we live in and will grow into, will continue to change. Our total set of lifelong infuences, including ourselves, the physical environments and the global community, have a huge impact on who we will become. How we learn to refect, communicate and collaborate within the confines of these infuences shapes us and the world around us.
